Administrative (Chairman Berger, Redford, Feller)

Jim Berger led the discussion of the future of the APA and its role. Niedzwiecki asked what we could do as an organization that people themselves cannot do without us. Casey said we are the group who deals with problems and solutions that come up in the Park. It was observed that networking is starting to diminish with the new generation so that the APA role may be keeping the Park viable. With the technology-driven generation, what other networking can we provide? Will it all be social media? It was mentioned that the board either re-set its purpose or disband. Is Arrowhead better off having the Arrowhead Park Association or not? Moving forward, perhaps change the upcoming year to be more viable and re-vamp the meetings. Consider lowering the dues.
